The Early Decorated Furniture of the Pennsylvania Dutch Feb

20 2022 Here and abroad, no other Pennsylvania Dutch motifs have come to be prized more than those created by John Bieber (1763-1825) of Oley Township, Berks County.

Without a doubt, the hallmark of a Bieber dower chest (hope chest) is its huge, bulbous, flat hearts diligently laid out with compass. The heart motif was the most reoccurring symbol among 18th-century immigrant artisans. This book celebrates the craftsmanship and history of these Americana pieces of furniture. Color pictures capture the beauty of these various works of art and are a step to cataloging them before they are lost to time.

Excerpt from Limberts Holland Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture By reviewing the history of furniture from about the latter part of the 15th century onward to the present day, one can readily observe the relationship between and easily trace back, step by step, many of the modern types of furniture known to the people as Arts and Crafts, William and Mary, Old English, Tudor, Flanders, Mission, Craftsman, etc., to the original manufacturers in the Netherlands. For a brief general outline of the history dealing with antique furniture, it would be well to start at a point and in a country familiar to almost everyone. With a carefully curated collection of interiors, including historic canal houses, restored farms, and green homes, belonging to interior designers, product designers, architects, and artists, this book showcases creative and resourceful living. These properties have been created or renovated and brought into the twenty-first century with typical Dutch style and sensibility—environmentally friendly, imaginative uses of space filled with color and charm and never to be taken too seriously. Each home in the book reflects the personality and spirit of the people who inhabit it. From furniture designer Valentin Loellman's handcrafted interiors in a traditional worker's cottage on the Maas river to fiber artist Claudy Jongstra's farmhouse in Friesland where indigo dye plants grow in the biodynamic garden, Coming Home illustrates fun ideas and easy ways to incorporate individual style into your surroundings. Whether it's the traditional "lowlands" aesthetic of combining old and new, faded and inviting, into a casual chic or a quirky reinvention of a space that reveals a touch of eccentricity, this book illustrates why the Netherlands is truly loved by so many and can be an inspiration to us all.

A Cabinet Full of Stories Nov 19 2021 - Everlasting Dutch design, The Pastoe brand is bold, down to earth, uncomplicated and timeless "Try, error, adjust and succeed is the best approach to change" - Rudy Stroink, Director, Pastoe "Good design can only be judged over 40 years" - Joost van der Vegt In 105 years a small and brave Dutch furniture factory has created its own place in the world of international interior design. The Pastoe brand is bold, down to earth, uncomplicated and timeless. Most of their products have a life cycle of over 30 years and some designs even last over 60 years. A refreshing approach in a time when design life cycles are short and fluid. The book presents a rich portfolio of Pastoe furniture and offers inspiration for the next 100 years of Dutch design and the selection for your next interior item at home. A young team is preparing the factory for the next phase of the business. They find new marketing avenues, develop new products, introduce new technologies, discover a new styling, redefine relations with their stakeholders, stumble and struggle on. The new and long journey begins with a plan and the first step. This book bears witness to that journey.

A Short Dictionary of Furniture Feb 29 2020 Originally published in 1952 but enlarged and revised in 1969, this dictionary became a standard authoritative work of reference. It contains 2,612 entries and over 1,000 illustrations, reproduced from contemporary sources and from drawings by Ronald Escott, Marcelle Barton and Maureen Stafford. The work is divided into 6 sections: the first and second concern the description and design of furniture, the third contains the entries, the fourth gives a list of furniture makers in Britain and North America, section five records books and periodicals on furniture and design and the concluding section sets out in tabular form the periods with the materials used, and types of craftsmen employed from 1100 to 1950.

A Masterclass in Antique Furniture: How to Find and Identify American, English, Dutch and French Antique Furniture, Clocks and Musical Instruments Sep 17 2021 This superb guide informs the reader on how to identify and discover the most gorgeous furniture ever to grace Europe and North America. With intense descriptions steeped in history and experience, this book brings the time tested expertise of its author - New England based antique dealer and specialist Thomas M. Clark - to the table in a world beating display of descriptive finesse and passion. Objects from chairs to beds to tables to cabinets are described in detail, with their making and prominence properly placed in the context of their time and place of manufacture. The author aims to arouse interest and natural passion by including anecdotes of the time, having researched and sourced poignant quotes and vignettes from the times in which these pieces emerged freshly worked from quality wood. Together with informing the reader about the pieces themselves, most of the items described are accompanied by detailed illustrations.

Marketing Strategy for Indonesian Rattan Furniture in the Netherlands

Apr 24 2022 Nowadays, people try to mix different interior styles in order to create an original interior. In spite of enormous supply of wood and rattan, Indonesia has so far only managed to carve a small share in the global furniture trade. In response to that, the author concerned to analyze how to increase the sales especially in European countries, which in this book the Netherlands is used as an example country to be researched. This book will be divided into five main parts, which are furniture market analysis, dutch buying behavior, marketing strategy for Indonesian rattan furniture, trends of furniture and trade structure in the Netherlands. The research methodology that is used by the author is also discussed here.

American Furniture in the Metropolitan Museum of Art

Dec 29 2019 The Metropolitan Museum's preeminent collection of early colonial furniture is expertly documented in this long-awaited publication. It covers the full spectrum of furniture forms made during the 17th and early 18th centuries--from chairs and other seating to tables, boxes, various types of chests and cupboards, and desks. Each of the 141 objects is thoroughly described with detailed information on provenance, construction, condition, inscriptions, dimensions, and materials. Photographed anew in color for this volume, each piece is explicated in terms of the styles and craftsmanship of the period and is evaluated in light of comparative pieces in public and private collections throughout the country. One appendix contains photographic details of construction and decorative elements, and another has drawings of joints and moldings.

Dutch Design Aug 17 2021 Experimentation and Dutch design have long gone hand in hand, from postage stamps to the Rietveld chair to the clean simplicity of Schiphol airport. Mienke Simon Thomas skillfully details the groundbreaking accomplishments and popular products of Dutch design in Dutch Design Culture. Thomas, a museum curator, delves deeply into the rich design history of the Netherlands, beginning with the historical roots of Dutch crafts education and the moral and social ideals of modernism that became central to the nation's cultural dialogue. Touching upon such issues as the emergence of the professional industrial designer, public work initiatives, debates about design as art, and the provocative notion of "anti-design," Thomas argues that though Dutch design from the beginning has been driven by aims of functionality, simplicity, and affordability, it has also embraced luxury and exclusivity. The book also discusses the role played by leading Dutch designers and their works, including Wim Crouwel, Marcel Wanders, and the design collective Droog Design. An unprecedented, detailed history, Dutch Design Culture is a critical primer on one of the leading national design movements today.

Furniture from the Netherlands East Indies 1600-1900 Jul 28 2022
 The Tropenmuseum of Amsterdam houses one of the largest and most important collections of furniture from the former Netherlands East Indies. This group of items has received very little scholarly attention, but holds important information about the domestic lives of the Dutch in the country's former trading posts and colonies. It is an important historical document of a scarcely detailed period of Dutch interior decoration in an alien environment. The Tropenmuseum initiated a four-year conservation project that led to important discoveries about the original appearance of these items - discoveries that forced alteration of current views. Drawn from this project, this book discusses important aspects of social and domestic life in the former Netherlands East Indies and also gives a technical survey of the museum's significant collection of ebony furniture. A short catalog details highlights from the Tropenmuseum collection.
